0 of 0 review helpful Great gift idea By gadgetgeek I recently had the opportunity to hear author speak and also show her own fabulous pics of sites she was talking about Very well researched and some great back stories revealed This would be a great book for out of towners but also for those who have lived for years in the DC area including myself and think they have seen it all 0 of 0 review helpful Washington D C is every American's home away from home Since DC is a compact city with great public transportation it's easy to explore both its high profile side its magnificent monuments world class museums enthralling architecture breathtaking vistas and unique national parks as well as its less famous persona its cozy hideaways ethnic eateries bustling dance clubs lively theaters shopaholic hot spots and more Now it's a foodies paradise enlive About the Author Barbara J Saffir has been exploring DC's urban treasures and its softer side for the Washington Post other publications and herself for three decades As a former reporter political researcher architecture critic and nature photographer
